On February 6, 2023, the Company completed an initial public offering and listed on the TSX Venture Exchange (“TSXV”) as a Tier 2 issuer under the symbol “PALI”.

The Company is a resource investment company and merchant bank focused on junior companies in the resource and mining sector and advancing and developing its own mineral projects. The Company seeks to acquire equity participation in pre-IPO and early-stage public resource companies with undeveloped or undervalued high-quality projects. The Company focuses on companies that are in need of financial resources to realize their full potential, are undervalued in capital markets and/or operate in jurisdictions with low to moderate local political risk. The Company owns an exploration project portfolio in Nevada, USA, the Eco Ridge uranium project in Ontario, Canada, a royalty on the Atlanta Gold Mine Project, and holds physical gold, platinum and silver bullion.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION

a) Statement of compliance

The Company’s condensed interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS® Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”), as applicable to interim financial reports including International Accounting Standards 34 “Interim Financial Reporting” issued by the IASB. These condensed interim consolidated financial statements do not include all the information and note disclosures required by IFRS Accounting Standards for annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the annual financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, which have been prepared in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards.

b) Basis of presentation

The condensed interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for investments measured at fair value, and are presented in Canadian dollars. Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior period consolidated financial statements to conform to the current period presentation. These reclassifications had no effect on previously reported assets, liabilities, net cash flows or net (loss) income.

c) Basis of consolidation

These condensed interim consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its controlled subsidiaries. Control exists when the Company has the power, directly or

d) Critical accounting judgments, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with IFRS[®] Accounting Standards requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities at the date of the statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Estimates and assumptions are continuously evaluated and are based on management's experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Uncertainty about these judgments, estimates and assumptions could result in outcomes that could require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of the asset or liability affected in future periods.

The information about significant areas of estimation uncertainty and judgment considered by management in preparing the condensed interim consolidated financial statements are as follows:

(i) Asset acquisition versus business combination

Management applied judgment with respect to whether the acquisition of Undercover Gold Inc ("UG", Note 4) was an asset acquisition or a business combination. The assessment required management to assess the inputs, processes and outputs acquired at the time of acquisition. Pursuant to the assessment, UG acquisition was determined to be an asset acquisition since no processes were acquired. In determining the fair value of assets acquired, management applied significant judgement and estimates in identifying the acquired assets and estimating their respective fair values at the acquisition date. Changes in the underlying assumptions or estimates could affect the amounts assigned to the acquired assets.

Notes to the Condensed Interim Consolidated Financial Statements

(Expressed in thousands of Canadian Dollars except per share amounts)

(ii) Impairment of exploration and evaluation assets

Management is required to assess impairment in respect to the Company's mineral property interests. The triggering events are defined in IFRS 6. In making the assessment, management is required to make judgments on the status of each project and the future plans towards finding commercial reserves. The carrying value of each exploration and evaluation asset is reviewed regularly for conditions that may suggest impairment. This review requires significant judgment. Factors considered in the assessment of asset impairment include, but are not limited to, whether there has been a significant adverse change in the legal, regulatory, accessibility, title, environmental or political factors that could affect the property's value; whether there has been an accumulation of costs significantly in excess of the amounts originally expected for the property's acquisition, development or cost of holding; and whether exploration activities produced results that are not promising such that no more work is being planned in the foreseeable future. If impairment is determined to exist, a formal estimate of the recoverable amount is performed and an impairment loss is recognized to the extent that the carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount.

Management determined that there were no indicators of impairment as at March 31, 2026. Refer to Note 7 for further information.

3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION

The policies applied in these condensed interim consolidated financial statements are the same as those applied in the most recent annual consolidated financial statements and were consistently applied to all the periods presented

New and amended IFRS Accounting Standards not yet effective

On May 30, 2024, the IASB issued amendments to IFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures and IFRS 9 Financial Instruments that are effective for annual reporting periods starting January 1, 2026. The amendments provide guidance on the derecognition of a financial liability settled through electronic transfer, as well as the classification of financial assets for contractual terms consistent with a basic lending arrangement; assets with non-recourse features; and contractually linked instruments. Additionally, the amendments introduce new disclosure requirements related to investments in equity instruments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income, and additional disclosures for financial instruments with contingent features. These amendments did not have a material effect on the Company's condensed interim consolidated financial statements.

Certain new accounting standards or interpretations have been published that are not mandatory for the current period and have not been early adopted. These standards and interpretations are not expected to have a material impact on the Company's condensed interim consolidated financial statements, except for IFRS 18 "Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements".

PALISADES GOLDCORP LTD.

Notes to the Condensed Interim Consolidated Financial Statements

(Expressed in thousands of Canadian Dollars except per share amounts)

IFRS 18 includes requirements for all entities applying IFRS Accounting Standards for the presentation and disclosure of information in financial statements and has an effective date of January 1, 2027. The effects of the adoption of IFRS 18 on the Company's condensed interim consolidated financial statements have not yet been determined.

4. ACQUISITION OF UNDERCOVER GOLD

On February 18, 2026, Made in America Ltd. ("MIAG") completed the acquisition of 100% of the issued and outstanding equity interests of UG, in exchange for 10% equity interest in MIAG upon closing of the transaction. MIAG acquired 100% ownership of the South Cortez and South Tonkin mineral exploration projects in Nevada. The transaction was accounted for as an asset acquisition. Since the consideration was in the form of equity instruments, the transaction was accounted for under IFRS 2 Share-based payment.

The total fair value of the UG assets and liabilities acquired was estimated at $3,419 (US$2,500), shown in the purchase price allocation summarized below:

Total consideration (fair value of equity instruments issued)	$ 3,419
Assets
Exploration and evaluation assets (Note 7)	3,375
Cash	42
Prepaid expenses	9
Liabilities
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	(7)
Total net assets acquired	$ 3,419

5. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS HIERARCHY AND INVESTMENTS

The Company's financial assets and liabilities are measured and recognized according to a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs. The three levels of fair value hierarchy are as follows:

Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Quoted prices in markets that are not active, or inputs that are observable, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 – Prices or valuation techniques that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable (supported by little or no market activity).

observable market conditions. As at March 31, 2026, the Company's warrant securities had varying expiry dates as follows: 3% in 2026, 16% in 2027, 56% in 2028, 18% in 2029, and 7% thereafter. Refer to Note 13 for information on sensitivities of the Company's investments and volatility input estimates.

Within Level 3, the Company includes private company investments which are not quoted on an exchange. The key assumptions used in the valuation of these investments include, but are not limited to, the value at which a recent financing was done by the investee, company-specific information, and review of adjusted net book values. A +/- 10% change on the fair value of these investments will result in a corresponding +/- $47 (December 31, 2025 - $437) change to the total fair value of these investments. The sensitivity analysis is intended to reflect the uncertainty inherent in the valuation of these investments under current market conditions, and its results cannot be extrapolated due to non-linear effects that changes in valuation assumptions may have on the fair value of these investments. Furthermore, the analysis does not indicate a probability of such changes occurring and it does not necessarily represent the Company's view of expected future changes in the fair value of these investments.

The following tables present the changes in fair value measurements of financial instruments.

The Company issued two Convertible Notes, each in the principal amount of $4,162, to a company controlled by a significant shareholder of the Company. The Convertible Notes accrue interest at 10% per annum payable every six months. Upon agreement of the Company and holder, the interest payment may be payable in common shares of the Company. These were calculated as the present values of the contractual principal and interest payments over the term of the notes at an EIR of 19.6% for Convertible Note A, and 21.1% for Convertible Note B. The residual amount of $506 was allocated to the equity component of the notes to reflect the value of the holder's conversion option. Transaction costs incurred of $114 were allocated to the liability and equity components in proportion to the allocation of the gross proceeds with $107 and $4 allocated to the liability and equity components, respectively.

Each Convertible Note was secured by 6,650,000 New Found shares. On December 10, 2025, 3,356,129 common shares of the Company were issued to settle Convertible Note A and 6,650,000 New Found shares were released as pledged security and returned to the Company.

13. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company thoroughly examines the various financial instrument risks to which it is exposed and assesses the impact and likelihood of those risks. These risks may include credit risk, liquidity risk, currency risk, and interest rate risk. Where material, these risks are reviewed and monitored by the Board of Directors.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation and cause the other party to incur a financial loss. The Company is not exposed to significant credit risk on its cash since they are placed with major financial institutions that have high credit ratings. The credit risk exposure of the Company's investments is represented by their values disclosed. There have been no changes in management's methods for managing credit risk since December 31, 2025.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Company has in place a planning and budgeting process to help determine the funds required to ensure the Company has the appropriate liquidity to meet its operating and growth objectives. The Company generates cash flow primarily from proceeds from the disposition of its investments and interest income. The Company invests in junior resource companies, which can at times be relatively illiquid. If the Company decides to dispose of securities of a particular issuer, it may not be able to do so at the time at favourable prices, or at all. Additionally, the amounts at which the Company's private company investments could be disposed of currently may differ from their carrying values since there is no active market to dispose of these investments. The Company has also relied on the issuance of shares to fund its activities and may require doing so again in the future.

There were no changes in management's methods for managing liquidity risk since December 31, 2025.

At March 31, 2026, the Company recorded cash of $945 (December 31, 2025 - $1,269) and investments in equities of $103,292 (December 31, 2025 - $122,478), which are available to discharge current liabilities of $15,445 (December 31, 2025 - $15,870).

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of, or future cash flows from, the Company's financial instruments will significantly fluctuate due to changes in market prices. The value of the financial instruments can be affected by changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and equity and commodity prices. The Company is focused on junior companies in the resource and mining sector. Changes in the future pricing and demand of these commodities can have a material impact on the market value of the investments. The nature of such investments is normally dependent on the invested company being able to raise additional capital to further develop and to determine the commercial viability of its resource properties. The value of each investment is also influenced by the outlook of the issuer and by general economic and political conditions. Management mitigates the risk of loss resulting from this concentration by monitoring the trading value of the investments on a regular basis. All securities present a risk of loss of capital. The maximum risk resulting from financial instruments is equivalent to their fair value.

There were no changes in management's methods for managing market risk since December 31, 2025. The Company manages market risk by having a portfolio that is not singularly exposed to any one issuer, although the Company's investment activities are concentrated on junior companies in the resource and mining sector. The Company also requires approval from the board of directors for purchases of investments over a certain cost threshold.

A 5% change in the future pricing and trading value of the Company's investments (with all other variables held constant) as at March 31, 2026, would change the Company's total comprehensive income by $14,532. A 10% change in the volatility used within the Black-Scholes option pricing model in valuing investments in warrants (with all other variables held constant) as at March 31, 2026 would change the Company's total comprehensive income by $17,844.

Notes to the Condensed Interim Consolidated Financial Statements

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025

(Expressed in thousands of Canadian Dollars except per share amounts)

(i) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company is not exposed to significant interest rate risks.

(ii) Foreign exchange risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair values of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because they are denominated in currencies that differ from the respective functional currency. The Company may have financial instruments denominated in foreign currencies such as the U.S. dollar and the Australian dollar. A change in the foreign exchange rate of the Canadian dollar versus another currency may increase or decrease the value of its financial instruments.

The Company does not hedge its exposure to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates.

There were no changes in management's methods for managing currency risk since December 31, 2025.

A 5% change in the exchange rate of the Company's investments held in foreign currencies relative to the Canadian dollar would change the Company's total comprehensive income (loss) by $413.

14. CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

The Company manages its cash and common shares as capital. The Company's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern in order to pursue its investment strategies, growth initiatives and to maintain a flexible capital structure which optimizes the costs of capital at an acceptable risk.

The Company manages the capital structure and makes adjustments to it in light of changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of the underlying assets. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may attempt to issue new shares, issue debt, acquire or dispose of assets or adjust the amount of cash. The Company's investment policy is to keep its cash treasury on deposit in an interest bearing Canadian chartered bank account. The Company will require capital resources to carry its plans and operations through its current operating period.

The Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements.

There were no changes in management's approach to capital management since the year ended December 31, 2025.
